Abstract

The collection consists of materials relating to the life of Rob Cole, in particular his career as editor of the Advocate (1970-1974), as unnamed contributor to the Forum of Southern California (1974), and as founder and first editor of NewsWest (1975). The documents, including correspondence, draft articles, administrative, legal, and financial records, shed light on Cole's role as the first professional newspaperman to run a gay newspaper in Los Angeles. The collection also contains the newsroom copy of the Advocate for 1967-1968, the two issues of the Forum of Southern California (1974), an incomplete run of NewsWest (1975-1977), and the single issue of Out! which succeeded NewsWest in 1977. The print material is supplemented by a significant number of photographs published by or submitted to the Advocate, Forum, and NewsWest. The collection also contains materials documenting Cole's association with the Christopher Street West Association, of which he was a founder. The records include board minutes, souvenir programs, newsletter and public relations campaign materials, photographs, videotapes, buttons, and t-shirts.

Biography

Frederick Robinson Cole was born in Dallas, Texas, on July 27, 1930. A self-described “loner”, he suppressed his homosexuality until the September 1969, when, while on vacation in Los Angeles, he was introduced to the newly formed Metropolitan Community Church. The following year, after 15 years as an editor at the Dallas Times-Herald, he moved to Los Angeles and joined the Advocate as news editor, the first news professional to work at the paper. During his tenure, Cole transformed the paper from a local Los Angeles bar rag to a respectable newspaper with national news coverage. Cole not only assigned and edited stories, but often wrote them, covering serious issues such as conditions for gays in jails, psychiatric abuse, and gays in religion.

Cole served on the Advocate until mid-1971, when homesickness and conflicts with the owners convinced him to resign and return to his former job in Dallas. He returned to the Advocate in September 1971, but again resigned at the end of December 1973, after renewed conflicts with the owners. After working on the short-lived GLBT newspaper Forum of Southern California, he returned to the Advocate for the third and final time, as managing editor, in September 1974. The Advocate was purchased by David Goodstein late that same year. Although rumor suggested that Goodstein intended to retain him as editor, Cole was fired in late December 1974, being replaced by John Preston. Early the next year, Goodstein moved the offices of the Advocate to the San Francisco Bay area and refocused the paper on national affairs, arts and entertainment, virtually eliminating local Los Angeles coverage. To fill in the void left by the departure of the Advocate, Cole founded the bi-weekly NewsWest, the first issue of which appeared in May 1975. NewsWest continued the tradition of the old Advocate, including many of the same columnists, writers, and stringers, and with the addition of Pat Rocco as primary photographer. However, Cole’s relationship with fellow members of the board of the paper’s parent company, Green Carnation Newspapers, soon became strained, and in October 1975 he was removed from the board; although he was retained as editor, his relationship with the board continued to deteriorate, and he left NewsWest shortly afterwards. (He continued to contribute occasional columns to the newspaper until it ceased publication in 1977.) In the following years Cole worked for other newspapers in Southern California before leaving journalism to work as a real estate appraiser. He remained active in the gay community, serving on the board of the Christopher Street West Association, of which he was a co-founder in 1970, for most of the last 37 years of his life.

He died at his home in North Hills, California, on June 30, 2007, after a long struggle with Parkinson’s disease, complicated by pneumonia and a chronic back ailment.

Scope and Content and Container List

The collection consists of materials relating to the life of Rob Cole, primarily his career as a newspaperman, and his association with the Christopher Street West Association.

Cole worked with three Los Angeles-area GLBT newspapers, as News and Managing Editor of the Advocate (1970-1974), as unnamed contributor to the Forum of Southern California (1974), and as founder and editor of NewsWest (1975). The materials include correspondence, draft articles, subject files, and other documents that shed light on Cole's role as the first professional newspaperman to run a gay newspaper in Los Angeles, and the often contentious world of the Los Angeles gay press in the 1970s. The collection also contains issues of several newspapers, including, from Cole's days as a newspaper editor in Dallas, issues of the Dallas Times Herald and Dallas Morning News chronicling several significant events between 1962 and 1969, as well as the newsroom copy of the Advocate for 1967-1968, the two issues of the Forum of Southern California (1974), an incomplete run of NewsWest (1975-1977), and the single issue of Out! which succeeded NewsWest in 1977. The print material is supplemented by a significant number of photographs published by or submitted to the Advocate, Forum, and NewsWest. The photographs published in and submitted to the Advocate derive from what is now the Advocate Records collection held by ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives, and how they came into Cole's private possession is not known. The collection also contains Cole's typed notes and audiotapes of interviews for stories, most relating to the Metropolitan Community Church.

Cole's association with the Christopher Street West Association, of which he was a co-founder, is less fully documented. The records include a handbill announcing the first Christopher Street West parade in June 1970; minutes of the board of directors for 1975-1976 (including Cole's account of police harassment of spectators at the 1976 march); souvenir programs for 1974, 1976, and 1985; materials relating to the 1984 and 1985 public relations campaigns; documents from 1995 and 1996, when Cole was editor of the association's newsletter; videotapes, primarily from the 1980s; photographs, primarily from 2002-2004; and memorabilia, chiefly buttons and t-shirts.

The collection also contains a small amount of a material of a personal nature, including Cole's unpublished short stories from the 1950, as well as a series of subject files, audio recordings, and memorabilia.

The collection is arranged in nine series: (1) Newspapers, (2) Christopher Street West, (3) Subject Files, (4) Personal, (5) Printed Matter, (6) Photographs, (7) Graphics, (8) Audiovisual, and (9) Memorabilia.

Series 1. Newspapers

Date: 1970-1995 (bulk 1970-1978)

Extent: 0.6 linear foot

This series contains materials relating to Cole’s career with three Los Angeles-area GLBT newspapers, first as News and Managing Editor of the Advocate (1970-1974), as unnamed contributor to the Forum of Southern California (1974), and as founder and editor of NewsWest (1975). The materials include correspondence, draft articles, typed reporter’s notes, subject files, and other documents that shed light on Cole’s role as the first professional newspaperman to run a gay newspaper in Los Angeles, and the often contentious world of the Los Angeles gay press in the 1970s. The series is arranged in three subseries, corresponding to the three newspapers for which Cole worked: (1) Advocate, (2) Forum of Southern California, and (3) NewsWest.

Subseries 1.1. *Advocate

Date: 1970-1995 (bulk 1970-1974)

Extent: 0.3 linear foot

This subseries contains materials relating to Cole’s career as News Editor, then Managing Editor, of the Advocate. The series includes only those files whose contents are specifically directed to or from the Advocate or marked with the Advocate stamp. The correspondence file for 1974 includes an account by Cole, written late in the year, recounting his work at the newspaper and his tumultuous relationship with owners Dick Michaels and Bill Rand. Of the subject files, some (Gay Bishops, Criminal Law Reform) appear to be general reference files; others (Bus Mystery, Frank Watts) relate to specific stories published in the Advocate. The files relating to the Metropolitan Community Church include Cole’s typed reporter’s notes; additional typed reporter’s notes by Cole on stories relating to the Metropolitan Community Church can be found in the Advocate Records collection, ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives. Audiocassettes with recorded interviews by Cole relating to various news stories, including the Frank Watts story, can be found in Subseries 8.2. Photographs published in the Advocate, as well as unpublished photographs received while Cole was associated with the newspaper, can be found in Subseries 6.1.

Subseries 1.2. *Forum of Southern California

Date: 1974

Extent: 1 folder

The Forum of Southern California was a short-lived GLBT newspaper published in Los Angeles in early 1974 as an alternative to the Advocate. Only two issues were published. Although his name appears nowhere in either issue, Cole appears to have been largely responsible for the style and content of the paper. This subseries consists of a single folder containing draft articles for issue 1 of the paper. For photographs published in issue 1, see Subseries 6.2; for copies of both issues, see Subseries 5.1.

Subseries 1.3. *NewsWest

Date: 1975-1978

Extent: 0.3 linear foot

This subseries consists of materials relating to Cole's foundation and editorship of the Los Angeles newspaper NewsWest, which continued the tradition of the Advocate after the latter's purchase by David Goodstein and removal to the San Francisco Bay area. The materials include a proposal prepared by Cole for potential investors in the new newspaper (originally entitled The Alternate) as well as other planning documents and receipts for outlays of money made by Cole in setting up the paper. The documents also include draft articles, editorial logs and mockups for the first three issues, as well as advertising logs for issues 4-33, and small files of general and internal correspondence. The Green Carnation Newspapers file contains correspondence and other materials relating to Cole's removal from the board and his attempts to recover his financial investment in the newspaper, as well as legal papers relating to the corporation's lease of an automobile. Photographs published in NewsWest, as well as unpublished photographs received while Cole was associated with the newspaper, can be found in Subseries 6.1.

Series 2. Christopher Street West (CSW)

Date: 1970-2006

Extent: 0.5 linear foot

This series contains materials relating to Cole's involvement with the Christopher Street West Association, of which he was a co-founder in 1970. The documents include a handbill announcing the first Christopher Street West parade in June 1970; minutes of the board of directors for 1975-1976 (including Cole's account of police harassment of spectators at the 1976 march); and souvenir programs for 1974, 1976, and 1985. Other materials include binders prepared by Communication Works detailing the firm's 1984 and 1985 public relations campaigns on behalf of Christopher Street West, as well as documents from 1995 and 1996, when Cole was editor of the association's newsletter. Photographs relating to Christopher Street West can be found in Subseries 6.3.

Series 3. Subject Files

Date: 1955-2003 (bulk 1969-1978)

Extent: 0.7 linear foot

This series contains files on various subjects. Although a portion of the materials was arranged in labeled files, the bulk was found loose throughout the collection. Several of the files represent organizations on whose boards Cole served (Gay Community Center of Orange County, H.E.L.P., the Hollywood Hills Democratic Club) or to which he belonged (Archives, Whitman-Radcliffe Foundation). Cole worked on several political campaigns including as treasurer of the Friends of Burt Pines (for Los Angeles City Attorney, 1973), and as writer for Herbert Selwyn (Democratic Party primary, 24th Congressional District, 1974). He was also editor of GAY SIGnificance, the newsletter for gay and lesbian members of MENSA. The Metropolitan Community Church file contains a draft of a 1970 letter by Cole describing the circumstances of his first contact with the church, and the part the church played in his coming out; the Scientology file documents his early interest in the movement, which appears to have influenced his writing of science fiction.

Series 4. Personal

Date: 1950-1978

Extent: 0.7 linear foot

This series contains materials relating to Cole's private life. The bulk of the materials consists of Cole's writings from the period 1952-1957. The majority of these writings are science fiction short stories, which Cole unsuccessfully submitted to the Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction, Imagination, and Weird Tales; Cole submitted other short stories to the New Yorker, Redbook, and Ladies' Home Journal. The series also includes three spiral notebooks containing manuscript drafts of short stories. The correspondence files include 1962 correspondence with Joan Chandler, an Englishwoman, concerning the presidency of John F. Kennedy; and 1971-1974 with Ron Waters, who had left his possessions in Cole's care while he was serving time in prison. The David Glascock file contains materials relating to Cole's lawsuit against Glascock for failure to pay for an automobile purchased by Glascock from Cole. The telephone and address book includes contact information for Cole's personal friends and professional associates (including stringers and reporters), as well as GLBT activists and celebrities.

Series 5. Printed Materials

Date: 1957-1977

Extent: 3.5 linear feet

This series contains printed materials found among Cole's papers. It is arranged in two subseries: (1) 5.1 Newspapers, containing issues of several newspapers with which Cole was associated, most importantly the short-lived Forum of Southern California, for which Cole was largely responsible, and NewsWest, which he founded in 1975; and (2) Other, containing miscellaneous publications.

Subseries 5.1. Newspapers

Date: 1962-1977

Extent: 3.4 linear feet

This subseries contains issues of several of the newspapers with which Cole was associated. The issues of the Dallas Morning News and Dallas Times Herald document momentous events, including John Glenn’s earth orbit, John F. Kennedy’s assassination and Lee Harvey Oswald’s slaying, the Apollo moon orbit, and Neil Armstrong’s walk on the moon. The newsroom copies of the Los Angeles Advocate for 1967-1968 antedate Cole’s arrival at the paper. Although his name does not appear anywhere in either issue, Cole was largely responsible for the Forum of Southern California, of which only two issues were published in early 1974, during his second “sabbatical” from the Advocate (drafts of articles and photographs used in issue 1 can be found in subseries 1.2 and 6.2, respectively). The run of NewsWest is incomplete, missing issues 13, 26-28, and 32-34; in addition, issue 54 is missing pages 5-36.

Subseries 5.2. Other

Date: 1957-1972

Extent: 6 items

This subseries contains six miscellaneous printed items found in Cole's papers. With the exception of Viking, which reprinted without permission a cartoon copyrighted by the Advocate, it is not clear whether Cole obtained these materials in the course of his work as a journalist, or as a private individual.

Series 6. Photographs

Date: 1969-2004

Extent: 1.4 linear feet

This series contains photographs found among Cole's papers. The bulk consists of photographs published or submitted to the newspapers for which Cole worked, in particular the Advocate and NewsWest (Subseries 6.1). The photographs published in and submitted to the Advocate derive from what is now the Advocate Records collection held by ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives, and how they came into Cole's private possession is not known. The principal photographer represented is Walt Blumoff, followed by Lee Mason, Pat Rocco, and Bud McGinnis; the subjects include demonstrations, meetings of gay activists with political leaders, legislative hearings, high-profile gay "weddings", and gay pride marches. The series also contains a small number of photographs published in the first issue (1974) of the Forum of Southern California (Subseries 6.2). Subseries 6.3 contains photographs relating to Cole's involvement with Christopher Street West. The materials from the 1980s include photographs from larger sets by Mitch Walker & Paul Meyers and possibly other photographers; additional photographs from these sets can be found in the Christopher Street West Collection and Christopher Street West Association Records, both at ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives. The materials for 2000, 2002, and 2004 are preserved on CD-ROM, several of which are unreadable; the materials for 2003 exist in three different formats: (1) prints, (2) negatives, and (3) Kodak PictureCD. The series also contains a small number of personal photographs (Subseries 6.4).

Subseries 6.1. *Advocate / News West

Date: 1969-1977

Extent: 0.4 linear foot

Arrangement: chronological

This subseries contains photographs published or submitted for publication to the Advocate or NewsWest, or related to (viz., from the same shoot or film roll as) photographs published in these newspapers. The bulk of the photographs relate to the Advocate, and those that were published bear Advocate markup instructions on front and back. A significant number of the unpublished photographs represent images missing from sets in the Advocate Records collection held by ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives. The photographs removed from the Advocate photo morgue do not match any discernable selection criteria, and the circumstances of their removal into Cole's private possession (where one of them was trimmed to fit an oval frame) are not known. The principal photographer represented is Walt Blumoff, followed by Lee Mason, Pat Rocco, and Bud McGinnis. The subjects are primarily political events, including demonstrations, meetings of gay activists with political leaders, and legislative hearings. Other events covered include high-profile gay "weddings" and gay pride marches. The subseries also contains several "formal" (i.e., studio) photographs of individuals, such as ONE, Inc., co-founder Dorr Legg, and three files (Photo Files #'s 1-2 and Gay Activist Personalities) of photographs of unidentified individuals or undated events.

Subseries 6.3. Christopher Street West (CSW)

Date: 1979-2004

Extent: 0.9 linear foot

Arrangement: chronological

This subseries contains photographs relating to Christopher Street West. The materials from the 1980s include photographs from larger "sets" by Mitch Walker & Paul Meyers and possibly other (as yet unidentified) photographers; additional photographs from these same sets can be found in the Christopher Street West Collection and Christopher Street West Association Records, both at ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives. The materials include an album of snapshots of the 1984 festival, undated snapshots of the production of a video starring Diana Ross and RuPaul, and undated negatives of the defacing of the Christopher Street West Association offices. The materials for 2000, 2002, and 2004 are preserved on CD-ROM, several of which are unreadable; the materials for 2003 exist in three different formats: (1) prints, (2) negatives, and (3) Kodak PictureCD.
